TILLMAN IS UNABLE TO SECURE A VOTE

THE SENATORS REFUSE TO HURRY THINGS.

The Motion To Take His Sugar Trust Inquiry Out of the Hands of the Committee Is Voted Down—Good Progress Has Been Made on Tariff Bill.

Washington, June 4.—The senate again made good progress on the tariff bill Thursday, covering about ten pages of the metal schedule, and almost completing it. The formal contest against the measure was maintained, but all amendments tending to change the bill as reported were voted down and the finance committee sustained. The debate was mainly of a technical character, the Republican senators continuing the policy of refraining from speeches.

Before the tariff bill was taken up Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, gave the senate another hour of exciting controversy over the proposed sugar investigation. He moved that the committee having charge of the sugar resolution be discharged from further consideration of it, thus bringing the subject directly before the senate.

Mr. Tillman began his statement by presenting a newspaper clipping which referred to charges made against him in connection with his administration while governor of South Carolina. These charges, he declared, were stale, and had been refuted.

Mr. Gallinger then secured recognition for a statement of the attitude of the committee. He said:

"Every man in public life feels the sting of false charges, and must the senate pause every time the accusations are brought to spend its time and money of the United States in pursuing the charges? If that were to be the case, then there would never be a tariff bill or any other bill." In its own good time, and after the resolution had been carefully examined, there would be a report to the senate, Mr. Gallinger stated.

After some further discussion, at times of a heated character, Mr. Tillman announced that as the representatives of the committee had stated a report on the sugar resolution would be made he withdrew his motion.

After a short parliamentary discussion the incident closed and the tariff bill was taken up. Mr. Jones (Ark.) asserted that high rates of duty were a premium on trusts and a direct tax on the poorer people, and added that where trusts existed competition was out of the question.

Mr. Turpie followed in a general speech directed at the high tariff rates on the low-priced articles, which was done, he said, for monopolies. This he pronounced an unpardonable sin and a crime against justice and public policy.

Were Killed and Scalped.

Akron, N. Y., June 4.—Dr. S. J. Dorland of this place has received notice from D. E. McCann, of Los Angeles, Cal., of the death of his two brothers, Benjamin H. and Peter M. Dorland, formerly of Oakville, Can. The party of seven, while prospecting for gold on Mount Wahsatch, unknowingly crossed the line into the Wahsatch Indian reservation, and while panning gold they were surprised by about fifty Indians. Four of the pearty were successful in reaching their horses, but the other three, being further down the stream, were unable to reach theirs, and were captured, murdered and scalped.

Badger, since his arrest, has confessed to the interpreter at the reservation.

WEYLER TO BE SUPERCEDED

"The Butcher's" Place Will Be Taken by General Campos.

Madrid, June 4.—A cabinet council was held Thursday, the queen-regent presiding. The retiring premier, Senor Canovas del Castillo, made a long statement regarding Cuba, the Philippine islands, the internal situation and the relations between Spain and the United States, which led to his resignation.

Her majesty declared herself satisfied with the explanation of Senor Canovas, and begged him to continue the government until the crisis was solved.

Senor Canovas, after the council, said the queen had asked him to telegraph the marshal, Martinez de Campos, asking him to come to Madrid, and that the latter had replied that he would arrive there to-day.

Senor Canovas added that a solution of the crisis will be difficult, and will depend upon the conferences between the queen-regent, Gen. Campos and Senor Sagasta, the liberal leader. It is said the latter is prepared to apply extensive reforms to Cuba through the instrumentality of Gen. Campos, who, it is believed, will shortly succeed Gen. Weyler as captain-general of Cuba.

HEAR MORE HINTS OF WAR

Japan Says the Answer of Hawaii is Far From Satisfactory.

San Francisco, Cal., June 4.—The steampship Mariposa arrived from Sydney, via Honolulu, with advices from the Hawaiian capital supplemental to those brought by steamship Peru. Monday, May 24, the day the Peru left the island, the government announced that its answer to Japan's demands had been sent to the Japanese minister. Minister Shimamura is not at all satisfied with the reply made by the Hawaiian foreign office. In an interview upon the subject he said:

"I do not consider what I have received to be an answer to my request for particulars. The action of the Hawaiian government in refusing landing the people who, Japan believed, after investigation made before their departure were eligible to land, was a gross violation of the treaty.

"Japan understands that there is a tacit understanding that the United States has an interest here; that, while not assuming the proportions of a protectorate she stands in the nature of a godmother to the island republic, but officials of the United States government are too well versed in the custom of dealing with questions of international law to say that Japan is wrong if she is right or that Hawaii is right if she is wrong.

"My instructions in the matter are plain. If I cannot get a reasonable answer to my request I may go home, and perhaps someone else will have better success. If I withdraw you know what will follow. I hope that it will not reach that point."

TO BEGIN NATIONAL STRIKE

Important Step Taken by the Miners in the Pittsburg District.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 4.—The miners of the Pittsburg district took a radical step Thursday in recommending that the national officers and the executive board of the United Mine Workers declare a national strife. The miners demand that the price for mining shall be 69 cents for coal going over a one and one-half-inch screen in thin or thick-vein districts, and for that over a three-fourth-inch screen the price shall be in proportion, minus the differential. They ask that machine mines also shall be paid according to the differential.

There was much debate on the resolution. Many delegates were in favor of taking a more aggressive step and declaring a strike at once, but the action was opposed by National President M. D. Ratchford and District President Patrick Dolan. It was thought the decisive time for the strike would be while the lake trade is opening or in the next month.

JUDGE LYNCH RULES AT URBANA, OHIO

MOB HANGS "CLICK" MITCHELL AT LAST.

After the Militia Had Shot Down Several of the Rioters, the Citizens Succeeded in Getting the Prisoner and Stringing Him Up—A Bloody Scene Enacted.

Urbana, Ohio, June 4—The citizens of Urbana at last vented their fury upon "Click" Mitchell, the assailant of Mrs. Gaumer, and have lynched him.

The Springfield troops arrived at 7:30 o'clock, and immediately marched toward the court house.

They were ordered back to the station by Major Ganson, and the mob was threatening.

An immediate attack was then made successfully upon the jail.

Mitchell was in a moment in the hands of the mob, and the next moment he was hanging upon the nearest tree Hundreds of women were present and witnessed the final scene of the mob's fury.

Urbana, Ohio, June 4.—Ohio state militia fired this morning into a mob at the county jail that was intent upon lynching Charles Mitchell, sentenced to the penitentiary for a vicious assault upon Mrs. Eliza Gaumer. Two men were killed instantly by the soldiers' bullets. Their names are:

BELL, HARRY.

CLAYTON, ——.

Six or seven other men were hit. It said some of them will die.

The greatest excitement prevails. The whole city is aroused. People are infuriated at the action of the troops, while the sheriff and military commander are determined to protect their prisoner at all hazards. No one can predict what the outcome will be.

Mitchell was sentenced to twenty years in prison, the maximum penalty for his crime, and the officials had hoped that this speedy justice would appease the wrath of the community.

After Mitchell was sentenced and the sheriff ordered to take him to Columbus at once, there was trouble. It was thought that the officers might get Mitchell through the crowd disguised as a soldier, but his color prevented this plan, and a carriage was driven up to the jail. Then the mob broke in and demanded the prisoner.

The sheriff had expected trouble, and his appeal to the governor brought troops to his aid. He hoped that by keeping the mob back until daylight the prisoner could be moved in safety. But as the night wore on the mob increased in boldness, and the upshot was an attempt to storm the jail at 1:30 o'clock this morning.

TEXAS IS STORM SWEPT

Heavy Damage Is Done to the Crops and to Various Towns.

Dallas, Tex., June 4.—A severe wind and rain storm did much damage Thursday in northern Texas. The wheat and oats crops are just about ripe for harvesting, and they have suffered, though it is as yet impossible to estimate the extent. At Forth Worth twenty residences were blown from their foundations, and a church was struck by lightning and considerably torn up. At Arlington, sixteen miles east of Fort Worth, twelve houses were blown down or badly wrecked. The justice of the peace of the precinct, S. G. Lasater, and L. J. Prose were in a tenement house which was blown to atoms. Both men were badly hurt, the former, it is feared, fatally. From Richland, Weatherford, Itasca, Ennis, Grand Prairie, Hearne, Will's Point, McKinney, Crandall, Corsicana, Gainesville, Terrell, and other towns within a radius of seventy miles, come reports of heavy winds and a terrific downpour of rain, doing more or less damage at all these places, and especially to the ripening grain and other growing crops.

Aimed at Butterine.

Springfield, Ill., June 4.—Senator Dunlap's bill preventing the use of coloring matter in the manufacture of butterine was passed by the senate Thursday by an overwhelming majority, and to-day will be delivered to Gov. Tanner for his signature. If the governor signs it the butterine industry of Chicago, which represents approximately investments aggregating over $5,000,000, will practically be wiped out of existence. It will mean the reduction of a total annual output of butterine from 40,000,000 of pounds to perhaps less than 10,000,000 pounds.

Spalding Thursday. He continued: "The Globe savings bank was never insolvent, as will be proved later. The report does ex-Gov. Altgeld a great injustice. He was not a director of the bank, nor a stockholder at the time of his election nor afterward. THE PAST WEEK AT FOOTVILLE

The Memorial Day Exercises Drew Large Attendance on Monday.

Footville, June 4—The Memorial day services May 31, were pronounced by all, the best ever held in Footville. The church was crowded to standing room, the singing was of a patriotic character, and well rendered by a large choir, composed of the singers from both churches. Beside the singing and opening exercises, Miss Dasy Spencer gave one of her well rendered recitations, which was well received. Remarks by P. Torpy were to the point, and appropriate. The reading by Miss Jessie Silverthorn, entitled "Cover Them Over," was also a pleasing feature. Rev. J. J. Lugg delivered the address of the day, and to say the least, was one of merit to our village, and met with the hearty approval of his many hearers. Marshall Brothers' band furnished music at the church, and headed the procession to the Grove cemetery, followed by the Footville band wagon, drawn by four horses and handsomely decorated, and loaded with some forty children, on their way to strew the graves of our departed heroes. The procession was a very large one for a place the size of Footville. May we carry the memory of this day with us and help us to be more patriotic in future. A WAR-TIME ROMANCE IS MADE COMPLETE

ENOCH TAYLOR LOCATES HIS RELATIVES.

When the War Broke Out, He Was in Slavery, But Made His Escape, and Came to Janesville with Colonel Britton's Regiment—Search Kept Up for Years.

Enoch Taylor, of this city, has received a letter that warmed the cockles of his heart. The missive told him of the whereabouts of the brothers and sisters he last saw when he joined Col. Britton's regiment during the war, to escape slavery by making for the north.

For more than a quarter of a century Mr. Taylor has been in ignorance of the whereabouts of his relatives, and the fate of his parents, but the letter that came to him recently cleared from his mind a mystery that has occupied his thoughts all these years. During the late war Mr. Taylor was a boy in slavery. He left his family and southern home and headed for the north, following Uncle Sam's soldiers, his main thought being to escape a life of bondage. His two brothers and two sisters as well as his father and mother were left to look after the old plantation and the only satisfaction at that time that he could give them was that he was bound for "Janesville."

Came With Col. Britton.

The cause of Mr. Taylor's sudden flight from his southern home, was the appearance of Colonel W. B. Britton's Eighth Wisconsin regiment, which invaded the South. When the soldiers came north, Colonel Britton took Mr. Taylor in charge, with the understanding that he was to return to Janesville with him. At that time Mr. Taylor did not know whether Janesville was a country by itself or a separate state, and his parents did not know the difference either. During the years that followed the closing of the war there were changes in the old southern home. Mr. Taylor's family had been released from the bonds of slavery and in the lapse of time his father and mother both died. Then the sisters and brothers moved to Pike county, Mississipp, and located on plantations.

Kept Up Correspondence.

During all these years they have wondered if they would ever see their brother again. They simply knew that he was somewhere in the northern country. Mr. Taylor thought that the chances of seeing his brothers and sisters in the south were equally slim but some time ago the brothers and sisters of the south started a line of correspondence to every Janesville in the country and to every other city that resembled it in name. For several years their efforts proved of no avail, and with each mail they would receive their letters from the dead letter office at Washington. A letter finally reached "Janesville, Wis.," and was delivered to Enoch Taylor. The missive related about the "long lost brother," and the writer signed himself Patrick Taylor.

Finally Reached Understanding.

At first Mr. Taylor was led to believe that some Irishman was trying to locate his brother, as the signature was "Patrick Taylor," but a return letter finally righted matters, and a dozen letters that quickly followed, soon brought to light the fact that Mr. Taylor had really located his long lost relatives.

"If I can sell my property in this city," remarked Mr. Taylor to a Gazette man, "I will take the first train for my old southern home and see my brothers and sister, whose faces I have not looked upon since the breaking out of the war."

Mr. Taylor has lived in Janesville may years and is well known. He is a hardworking, honest, and conscientious man, and all who know him speak highly of him. For some years he was employed by the New Doty Manufacturing company, but of late has been engaged in farming.

MUCH DAMAGE DONE BY FROST

Authoritative Reports of Injury Done to Wisconsin Vegetation.

The Milwaukee weather bureau received reports from various parts of the state which show that the frost last Monday night was one of the most detrimental to Wisconsin vegetation for many years. In Washington county everything has been killed that frost could destroy. Potato vines a foot high were cut to the ground. Nearly all the strawberries that were in bloom were killed, and all of the barley is in bad condition. In Juneau county it froze everything that was up. The frost did more or less damage throughout the entire state, with the exception of the southern tier of counties, and the counties along the lakes, the western and central counties suffering the most damage.

EMERALD GROVE CREAMERY PRICE

A Patron Takes Exceptions to Tiffany's Claims in News Items

Emerald Grove, June 4—Editor Gazette—In the columns of a late issue, under the heading of the Tiffany news, appears an item which does our factory a great injustice, and I ask a little of your space and time to answer. Our factory is run entirely by steam. We use no wind, and had the Tiffany jotter confined himself to facts we would not have troubled you now. For quality of work and honorable dealing with patrons we stand second to no factory. Among the eighty patrons I believe there is as little dissatisfaction as is any factory in the state. Now, in this item Tiffany claims to have paid for the last half of April, 5 cents more per hundred for milk than Shopiere; 8 cents more than the La Prairie factory and 10 cents more than Emerald Grove—the last of which I know to be untrue. We will use some of his figures and see where the trouble is. He says Tiffany paid 8 cents more than La Prairie. Now, Shopiere paid 54 cents per hundred. Then according to that Tiffany paid 62 cents per hundred. Again, he says they paid 10 cents more than Emerald Grove. Emerald Grove paid 58 cents per hundred, so now he makes it 68 cents per hundred. "Not very truthful." But making an equalization, we will call it 65 cents. Now, the first of June the pay for the first half of May 50 cents per hundred for milk, a drop of 15 cents. Whew! La Prairie pays 53 cents per hundred, a drop of 1 cent, and Emerald Grove 54 and six-tenths cents per hundred, a drop of 3 and four-tenths cents. Now, Mr. Writer, there must be a "nigger in the woodpile." Wha 's the matter with Tiffany? We are all right. PATRON.

LITTLE IS DOING IN LEAF

Tobacco Market Does Not Change Much These Days.

There is no apparent change in local tobacco market conditions, The Leaf says. Now and then one finds a warehouse where some business is being done, but the most of them are closed, except about mail time. Some sampling is being done, and an occasional visitor from eastern markets are the only sources of excitement we have, excepting an occasional fishing excursion or a half day on the golf links.

Among the transactions reported are 200 cases of '96 sold by George H. Rumrill; 58 cases '96 sold, 34 cases of old and several lots new bought by S. B. Heddles; 30 cases C. J. Jones and several small lots sold by other packers.

The cold, dry weather of the past ten days has been followed last Wednesday by a good warm rain which will be of great value to the young plants. There have been several frosts during the past week but the plants are mostly covered and but little damage resulted.

The Edgerton Market.

Diligent search fails to disclose any transactions worthy of mention among local dealers, in short the market is about as flat as it could well be, reflecting in a measure the conditions that exist with the eastern trade. The extreme cool weather of the past month has delayed the sweating process of the '96 packings which will prevent their being offered on the market as early as was hoped for, says The Edgerton Reporter.

The cool weather with frequent frosts has also interfered with the growth of the plants for the new crop. Some beds have been frozen when carelessly left unprotected, though there is an abundance of plants everywhere. A few growers have started transplanting this week but the average plants will hardly be of proper size for setting for a couple of weeks yet.

The growers are getting their tobacco ground ready and waiting for warm weather to bring along the belated plants. Those who have transplanted are taking chances from frosts unless weather conditions change.

The shipments out of storage from this station to all points for the week reach a total of 400 cases. About 900 cases cigar leaf were exported from New York since our last report.

DR. HOBBS

Second Challenge to the Citizens of Janesville is Simply an Open Invitation.

TO THE PUBLIC

To Test the Medicinal Virtues of His Sparagus Kidney Pills to Cure Kidney Troubles.

TO-MORROW

A Sample Box of Dr. Hobbs' Pills Will be Given Away Free to Every Person Asking for it at

C. D. Stevens' Pharmacy, Cor. Main and Milwaukee Sts.

JULIUS HOBBS, M. D.

That a second challenge should be issued by Dr. Hobbs to citizens of Janesville to test the merits of his Sparagus Kidney Pills to cure every form and phase of disease of the kidneys, rheumatism and bladder troubles is not remarkable in view of his wonderful success in this city a few months ago.

Dr. Hobbs does not ask the public to call at the druggist's and pay for his remedy before its merits are known, but, in unmistakable terms, he invites every interested person to call at a leading drug store and get, free of charge, a box of his Sparagus Kidney Pills, and test their efficacy to relieve and cure disease.

The claims made for the remedy are, speaking in a general sense, that the Hobbs Remedy company of Chicago and San Francisco are the owners of an Asparagus Kidney Remedy, which they positively assert will cure all kidney diseases, with the exception of those where tumors and ulcers have formed and a surgical operation is necessary.

For the purpose of making this second test in an open manner and beyond criticism, a large number of samples of Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills have been sent to

C. D. Stevens, Pharmacist.

Under an agreement that Saturday, June 5, a sample box will be who desire to test the value of these pills. Every sample box given away contains also samples of Dr. Hobb's Little Liver Pills.

Each applicant for a free sample of these wonderful pills will also be presented with a little book on kidney diseases, which sets out in a clear, plain manner just such information as would be wanted by anyone with weak kidneys. In this book much information will also be found which is of greater value to those who suffer with sick headache, disordered stomach or bowels and liver complaint.

For free samples of these pills write to or call on C. D. STEVENS, Pharmacist, Corner Main and Milwaukee street, Janesville, Wis.

Complexional Indications.

The complexion of persons whose digestion is out of order, who are bilious, or who lack vigor always exhibit an unhealthy tint. It is by equating the bodily organs and otherwise digestion and assimilation, that the parchment hue indicative of ill health, is banished from the cheeks. To rectify the fault in complexion, use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, an invigorant and alterative which removes those obstacles to renewed strength, physical comfort and personal attractiveness—an imperfect digestion and secretion, and a disordered condition of the bowels. Persistence in the use of this inestimable corrective and tonic will assuredly result in renewed physical regularity and vigor, will tend to increase bodily substance, and cause the glow and clear color of health to return to the sallow, wasted cheek.

The Marvel of Modern Science.

Tumors Discovered by Means of X-Ray

Old Versus New. Education shapes our beliefs and prejudices and makes us cling to old-fashioned ideas and notions until new developments in science prove the error of our teaching and force new truths upon us. A few months ago you would laugh at anyone claiming to be able to photograph an object through a six-inch plank, and yet today everyone knows this is easily accomplished by electricity. Scientific discovery is constantly upsetting old doctrines and enabling us to do hitherto impossible things. In no way has this fact been more strikingly illustrated than by the results of my new methods of curing.

Chronic Diseases—Almost every person has been told by good and honest doctors that the chronic disease of which I make a specialty could not be cured. Not long ago that was true, but it is not true today. The doctor who makes such an assertion is away behind the times. He has lost step in the march of science, his professional knowledge is covered with cobwebs, moth-eaten and needs to be renovated by a new course of study in the up-to-date Hospitals devoted to these special diseases. He may be a good doctor for measles, he may be well versed in ancient history, but he is a "back number" on special and chronic diseases. Hundreds of thousands of people are every year doctored by physicians who have no idea what the trouble is, and, rather than confess their ignorance, they prescribe and treat the confiding patients without the least chance of benefitting them, and a great many chances of positive injury.

A Secret of Dr. Melville's Success—The question is often asked, "How is it that Dr. Melville can cure in so short a time diseases that have baffled other physicians for years?" The answer is easily found: She confines her attention to chronic diseases, leaving all acute cases to the general practitioners. She has devoted her life to the study of those diseases exclusively in the large hospitals in London, Paris and New York. She spares no expense to secure for the patient the latest and best medicine, and is supplied with expensive apparatus and necessary instruments.

PROTECTION IN THE SOUTH.

The growth of protection sentiment in the south, which has been frequently evidenced during the consideration of the tariff bill, is again indicated by the utterances of that sterling democratic paper, the New Orleans Picayune. Commenting upon the demand for an increase in the duty on rice, it says: "The industry has suffered severely under the Wilson law, as the low rates of duty do not protect domestic rice producers from the foreign rice raised by the pauper labor of the Orient. The industry can thrive under nothing less than the protection accorded by the Dingley bill; hence it is much to be hoped that the house schedule may be adopted." Here is protection sentiment with a genuine protection ring, and coming from a genuine democratic newspaper.

DOLLARS MELTED DOWN.

Our "crime of '73" was not a circumstance compared with the "crime" which has just been committed against the dollar of the Peruvian daddies. Our crime of '73 consisted in the nominal suspension of the coinage of a dollar which had not in reality been coined for years, while the Peruvian "crime" which has just been committed provides that not only shall the coinage of Peruvian soles be suspended, but that the coins, when brought into the country, shall be melted up and returned to their owners melted in bars. This is the result of Peru's long experience with the free coinage of silver. It has not only made gold the standard, but proposes to melt down the coins brought into the country and pass them back to their owners in the form of bullion.

BEET SUGAR PROFITS.

Wisconsin farmers who are studying the beet sugar question, will be interested to know that stockholders in the Watsonville, California, beet-sugar factory, who got $300 a share for stock which cost them $100, and upon which they had also received $117 in dividends, are complaining because they were "frozen out" by the company, and only got $4.17 for each dollar they invested. If this is a sample of the profits which people may expect from the beet-sugar business, the results of Secretary Wilson's experiment may be of very material advantage to the agriculturists and business men of this country.

Ex-Secretary Carlisle has gone into the bond business and has opened an office at 30 Broad street, New York. This is next door to the Stock Exchange and conveniently near J. P. Morgan's headquarters. Mr. Carlisle is well acquainted with Mr. Morgan and has had experience enough of his own bond deals so his judgment ought to be good. If he continues to receive the advice of that eminent New Jersey bond expert, Hon. Grover Cleveland, his success in Wall street should be phenomenal.

As Mr. Folsom reads about Mr. Shove he is inclined to believe that wrecking banks is a good deal safer avocation than burning barns—to say nothing of being more profitable.

OPPOSE THE MACADAM PLAN.

Washington Street Is Not Likely to Be Fixed.

Those who now have the work in hand relating to the proposed macademizing of Washington street from Highland avenue to the cemetery, are meeting with some strong opposition. The property owners whose land it will benefit naturally would favor the plan. Some of the aldermen look at it in a different light. They think that the expense would be too heavy and that other portions of the city need looking after first.

HE SOLD BAD MEAT TO ROCKFORD FOLK

TAE COW WAS DYING OF MILK FEVER.

Animal Bought of a Farmer Near This City, Was Disposed Of at the Forest City, and the Police Look For the Seller—It Is a State's Prison Offense.

A traveling butcher who is now somewhere in this section of the country, is wanted by the Janesville police who say he bought and sold diseased meat.

The act is a criminal offense, and the culprit will be dealt with accordingly when found.

The local police are doing all in their power to find the guilty party. His name is not known, but he is said to be a German.

On Wednesday, it is alleged, the butcher visited a prominent farmer's place near this city, for the purpose of trying to buy his poultry and calves. He found the farmer getting ready to dispatch a cow which was suffering from milk fever, and almost dead. The farmer offered to sell the cow's hide and a deal was made, the German paying $2.50 for the animal.

Farmer Came to Town.

The trader proceeded to kill the cow. He dressed the carcas on the spot and then loaded it into his wagon and drove away. The care he had used in dressing the meat aroused the suspicion of the farmer, who hastened to town and notified Chief of Police Hogan. The police then found out that the butcher was traveling southeast and telephone messages sent to Marshal Appleby at Beloit and Chief Bargren of Rockford, notified them to keep a sharp lookout for the man and his load of meat.

Meat Sold at Rockford

Yesterday the Rockford police discovered the meat in Anderson's butcher shop in the Forest City. Anderson said he bought the beef yesterday morning, paying the trader $9.41 for it. This was less than two cents per pound, but Anderson was thinking too much of his bargain to examine the meat, or else he did not care. He hung it up in his market and when the officers called on him he had sold five or six pounds off the diseased carcass. Health Officer Rohr was summoned and promptly condemned the meat upon examination.

CHICAGO MARKETS BY WIRE

Robert Linblom's Letter On the Condition of Crops and Trade.

Chicago, June 4—(Special to Byrd & Law Commission Company)—It is an unwelcome task to attempt to diagnosis a market that is evidently manipulated at home and abroad. Yesterday foreign markets were two to two and half pence higher without any apparent good reason, and today they are that much lower. It is very evident to even a casual observer that the market is not legitimate or governed by legitimate influence. There is every statistical reason for higher prices and there is no prospective productive reason at the moment for any great decline. The harvest is still in the field and there are many dangers yet to be overcome, while stocks are decking im every market. This however cuts no figure. The two sides being so evenly balanced the market is narrow and susceptive to manipulation by large traders.

Exports for five days have been very good, amounting to 1,461,000 and the cash demand here is urgent even ordinary no two spring commands a sharp premium, but speculators shut their eyes to this condition when they see that it is only a question of time when there will be abundance and the natural bent of most speculators is to the bear side. We should not be surprised to see the market sell some lower, as there is not enough bull enthusiasm to overcome the inertia of speculative offerings.

Corn has been weak. The shorts covered rapidly yesterday, and partly in sympathy with wheat and more because the market was evened up, prices have declined. Corn will probably have some further weakness, but we still firmly believe that before another crop, prices will be materially higher. As to provisions it is the same old story. The packers were in control, and there is not enough outside business to give the market any vim.

Mr. Isaac Horner, proprietor of the Burton House, Burton, W. Va., and one of the most widely known men in the state was cured of rheumatism after three years of suffering. He says: "I have not sufficient command of language to convey any idea of what I suffered, my physicians told me that nothing could be done and my friends were fully convinced that nothing but death would relieve me of my suffering. In June 1894, Mr. Evans, then salesman for the Wheeling Drug Co., recommended Chamberlain's Balm. At this time my foot and limb were swollen to more than double their normal size and it seemed to me my leg would burst, but soon after I began using the Pain Balm, the swelling began to decrease, the pain to leave and now I consider that I am entirely cured. For sale at C. D. Stevens' pharmacy, corner Main and Milwaukee streets

Hundreds of thousands have been induced to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy by reading what it has done for others, and having tested its merits for themselves are today its warmest friends. For sale at C. D. Stevens' pharmacy, corner Main and Milwaukee streets.

"For three years we have never been without Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the house," says A. H. Patter, with E. C. Atkins & Co., Indianapolis., Ind., "and my wife would as soon think of being without flour as a bottle of this Remedy in the summer season. We have used it with all three of our children and it has never failed to cure—not simply stop pain, but cure absolutely. It is all right, and anyone who tries it will find it so." For sale at C. MRS. CURTIS, NEW YORK,

Tells Her Experience With Ovaritis.

A dull, throbbing pain, accompanied by a sense of tenderness and heat low down in the side, with an occasional shooting pain, indicates inflammation.

On examination it will be found that the region of pain shows some swelling. This is the first stage of ovaritis, inflammation of the ovary. If the roof of your house leaks, my sister, you have it fixed at once; why not pay the same respect to your own body?

Do you live miles away from a doctor? Then that is all the more reason why you should attend to yourself at once, or you will soon be on the flat of your back.

You need not, you ought not to let yourself go, when one of your own sex holds out the helping hand to you, and will advise you without money and without price. Write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and tell her all your symptoms. Her experience in treating female ills is greater than any other living person. Following is proof of what we say:

"For nine years I suffered with female weakness in its worst form. I was in bed nearly a year with congestion of the ovaries. I also suffered with falling of the womb, was very weak, tired all the time, had such headaches as to make me almost wild. Was also troubled with leucorrhœa, and was bloated so badly that some thought I had dropsy. I have taken several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and several of her Blood Purifier, and am completely cured. It is a wonder to all that I got well. I shall always owe Mrs. Pinkham a debt of gratitude for her kindness. I would advise all who suffer to take her medicine."—MRS. ANNIE CURTIS, Ticonderoga, N. Y.

FOLSOM IN PRISON FOR SEVEN YEARS

Clinton Man Convicted of Arson Charge.

THE JURY WAS OUT NINETEEN HOURS.

At Seven O'clock This Morning, After Debating the Question All Night Long, They Decided To Convict the Defendant—Condemned Man Makes an Impassioned Harrangue in Court When Asked if He Had Anything To Say—Taken To Waupun at Noon.

For the next seven years, Charles Folsom, of Clinton, will reside at Waupun.

His clothing will be prison stripes; his food the prison food; and his life the convict's daily routine.

And at that he is lucky.

The punishment for the crime of arson is from 5 to 15 years in the penitentiary.

Folsom was tried before Judge Bennett on the charge of arson this week. District Attorney Jackson prosecuted the case and Attorney J. J. Cunningham defended the prisoner. The case went to the jury at 12:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Then came the ballots. A majority of the jurors, it is said, favored his conviction, but those who did not agree with them, refused to accept the judgment of the others.

An hour passed and a verdict was not reached. The afternoon wore away, and no knock was heard on the jury room door.

Kept All-Night Vigil.

"The jury is hung; an agreement will not be reached," said a man who knew the ways of juries, at supper time last evening. Undersheriff Cochrane was in charge of the twelve men. As the day turned into night, and there were no evidences of an agreement, the undersheriff sent for his big fur coat and a blanket. Then he made himself comfortable near the jury room door and watched the hands go around the face of the court room clock. For nineteen hours he kept watch, and did not even get the necessary "forty winks of sleep."

Behind the locked door the jurymen debated the question. One o'clock became two, and two o'clock became three. Supper time came, but they could not reconcile their opinions. The cotton factory bell rang at 9 p. m., but there was no decision. Midnight found matters still unsettled, and at 4 o'clock a. m. they were as far from a solution of the question as ever. At seven o'clock this morning, however, they reached an agreement and knocked on the jury room door.

Verdict Was, "Guilty."

Judge Bennett was quickly summoned, and Undersheriff Cochrane took the twelve men back to their seats. The verdict was read, the jurors certifying that they had found the defendant "guilty." The twelve men, who had spent the night in their close quarters, without bedding of any kind, were discharged. They all looked worn after their all night session, and hastened to their homes at once.

Folsom heard the verdict read. He has been unmoved through the entire trial, and seemed to be indifferent as to its outcome. When he heard the decree of the jurors, his demeanor changed, and he became defiant. When asked if he had anything to say, he arose quickly and poured forth a torrent of words, making accusations, and using bitter language. He said nothing that tended to help himself, however, and at the conclusion of his harrangue, Judge Bennett proceeded to give him a talking to. The good advice offered by the court did not seem to impress Folsom, who was angry and disappointed at his conviction. Then sentence was pronounced.

Got Seven Years at Waupun

"The sentence of the court is" said Judge Bennett "that you, Charles Folsom, be punished by confinement, at hard labor, in the state penitentiary at Waupun, for the term of seven years, beginning at noon today. The first day of your confinement, and the 9th of November each year, will be solitary."

"I will not sentence this man to jail at all" said the court, addressing himself to Sheriff Acheson. "If you can take him to Waupun on the noon train today, do so."

"All right Your Honor" answered the sheriff.

Folsom was then taken back to jail, and Sheriff Acheson left at noon for Waupun, with the prisoner.

Clinton people have been deeply interested in the trial of Folsom. He was arrested some time ago, on the charge of having set fire to the big hay barn owned by his father-in-law, Giles Burt, at Clinton. At the time public feeling was intense, and there was great excitement among the people. Folsom was suspected of having set fire to the building, and District Attorney Jackson and Under Sheriff Cochrane made an investigation, the result being the arrest of Folsom.

It is said that the jury attached great importance to the testimony of Giles Burt and Mrs. Rader. Mrs. Rader is the wife of E. B. Rader, proprietor of a machine shop. She testified that during fire she heard Folsom say he had "fixed that so Arch Woodard wouldn't get it," meaning that

TWO HOUSES ROBBED BY BOLD THIEVES

C. C. MACLEAN AND J. M. BOSTWICK SUFFER.

Former Loses a Gold Watch Worth One Hundred Dollars, and a Silver Time Piece—Mr. Bostwick's Watch Gone, Too—Thieves Overlook a Roll of Bills at MacLean's Home

Burglars tip-toed through two Third ward homes at an early hour this morning and were well repaid for their trouble.

At J. M. Bostwick's Court street residence they secured a valuable gold watch and fifty cents in money.

At C. C. McLean's North East street home they secured a gold watch worth one hundred dollars, a silver time piece, and thirty nine cents in cash.

In both cases they gained an entrance by raising a window.

At C. C. MacLean's home the thieves affected an entrance by raising the window that leads into the sitting room and as it was not locked they experienced little trouble. The work was done between the hours of 2 and 4 this morning as Mrs. MacLean did not retire till 1 o'clock. They then went through the parlor, and tip-toeing their way up the carpeted front stairs, passed the bed rooms occupied by the children and cautiously entered the chamber occupied by Mr. and Mrs. MacLean.

The bureau in this room is but a few feet from their bed. This piece of furniture they ransacked and secured a pocket book containing 39 cents, but overlooked in the same drawer $42 in bills, as well $5 that laid in plain view on top. A silver watch that laid on the bureau was secured.

Overlooked $150.

They took Mr. MacLean's valuable gold watch from his vest which was lying on the foot of the bed. The thieves must have been in a hurry for $15 in bills was in this same vest pocket and they overlooked it. The robbers left the empty pocketbook on the dining room table and decamped, leaving the window still raised.

At J. M. Bostwick's residence they gained an entrance by raising a window in the rear of the house. They then made their way to Mr. Bostwick's chamber, where they secured his gold watch and fifty cents. The work must have been done between 3 and 4 o'clock, for Mrs. Bostwick did not retire till about 3 o'clock. The police think that the same parties did both jobs. Chief Hogan and Officer Appleby both visited the scenes of the robbery this morning. They are of the opinion that the parties who did the work must have been acquainted with the surroundings at both places.

May Have Used Buggy

It is now thought that the robbers may have used a buggy in their depredations. Early this morning a woman living on Lincoln street, was awakened by a suspicious sound. She thought she heard some one about the house. A few moments later the noise ceased, and the robbers evidently left. The next sound heard was the crunching of buggy wheels on the fresh gravel with which the street had recently been repaired. The parties using the buggy stopped on the corner a few minutes, but then left. Whether or not any significence should be attacned to this circumstance is now the question with the police.

An attempt was also made to enter the boarding house of Miss Minnie F. Jones, at the corner of East and South Second streets, but the robbers did not get in.

HAVANA FILLERS COST MORE

War in Cuba Causes an Increase In Price

A number of the local cigar dealers were notified this week of an advance in the price of all Havana filled goods. The price in most cases will average $2 a thousand on nickle grade goods. The advance, the wholesalers say, is the direct result of the prolonging of the war in Cuba.

HIGH ART BICYCLE.

HAS NO EQUAL.

The height of mechanical skill is exemplified in its building. Its lines are symmetrical. Its bearings and running qualities superb. Its unexcelled points are many. The "Wolff" name plate alone is a sufficient guarantee of its great worth. REMODEL THE RINK FOR BICYCLE USE

BIG BUILDING IS TO BE FIXED OVER.

Wheelmen Can Use It, and It Will Be Rented For Public Gatherings, Such as The Midwinter Fair, Political Gatherings, Etc., Changes To Cost $1,000.

One thousand dollars in cash will be used to remodel the rink building, on South River street and one of the finest bicycle auditoriums in the country will be at the disposal of Janesville cyclers this fall.

Capt. W. T. Vankirk, the sole owner of the building, is the promoter of this enterprise. Charles H. Belding, who now occupies a portion of the building for farm machinery, was notified today to vacate the premises The contract for the carpenter work will be let at once and the job will take some weeks to complete. Contractor James Shearer has made an examination of the mason work and the foundation and finds it in as good condition as the day the building was erected.

Captain Vankirk, when asked this afternoon about the proposed plan said that the proposed idea would be carried out at once.

The Plan of Work

"What we intend to do" said Mr. Vankirk, "is to tear out all the old partitions that are now in the building and build seats along each side its entire length. We will then erect a bicycle track that for indoor work will be equal to any in this part of the country."

The rink building floor is 200 feet in length and 88 feet wide and is made of hard wood. The cost of the floor when it was laid was $1,700.

The building will also be used as a hall for all public gatherings, political meetings, etc., and in this respect it will fill a long felt want. The midwinter fair may then be held in a building that for ground floor space has no equal in the city. Capt. Vankirk is to be commended for his public spirited enterprise.

JANESVILLE MAN CLIMBS UP

James Ruggles Likely to Command the Rockford Rifles.

James Ruggles, a former Janesville man, now of Rockford, is receiving his share of honor in the Forest City as a member of the militia. There is a hot fight in the ranks of the Rockford Rifles, of which organization Mr. Ruggles is now first lieutenant, the question being the selection of a captain. First Lieutenant Ruggles has strong opposition in the person of Lieutenant Leonard, but The Star says: Lieutenant Ruggles is one of the old and tried officers of the regiment, and in view of his excellent record, his many friends claims that he should be given the honor.

GIVES STRENGTH TO MEN

Free To All Who Are Weak And Worn

A METHOD TO CURE AND INCREASE THE POWER.

It is a remarkable fact that a man never appreciates the sufferings of others until he himself has passed through the fire of pain or remorse. Then it is that he looks around for those who are suffering; he wants them to profit by his experience; he gives his time and money gladly for the benefit of others and never tires of his zeal. There are plenty of men weak and worn out, struggling with remorse and fear, the natural outcome of habits that brought incapacity; a sense of lonesomeness and a feeling as if the best side of life had been banished forever. Such men should write to Thomas Slater, Box 494, Kalamazoo, Mich. He will send free by mail, in a plain, sealed envelope, full particulars about the method he used, and this will enable any man to get a complete cure at home. It is the method that Mr. Slater used to cure himself of the troubles that sap the strength and vigor and also enlarged his organs to natural size. The cure was complete, so satisfying and such a wonderful change from his former condition that he will gladly tell others all about it, sending all particulars. He figures that he doesn't know of a better way to show his appreciation of his own cure and sufferings of others. There must be generous men in this world to off set the tide of avarice. Write to Mr. Slater—it will cost nothing for his description and method.

A NEW DISCOVERY BY THE SHAKERS

For more than a hundred years the Mount Lebanon Shakers have studied the cultivation of medicinal plants and sought to extract from them their healing essences. Their labor has not been spent in vain. They have made a discovery that will prove a blessing to mankind. It consists of a cordial that causes immediate relief in cases of indigestion. The importance of this discovery will be apparent when we realize that nearly nine-tenths of our suffering are caused by dyspepsia or indigestion. Nearly every person you meet has this digestive trouble in some of its varied forms sick headache, distress after eating, pain and fullness in the chest after eating, palpitation of the heart, etc. are but symptoms of indigestion. To relieve these sufferings has been the study of the Shakers, and they have succeeded. The reason the Shaker Digestive Cordial has such an immediate and salutary effect is that it causes the food eaten to be digested, for it is undigested food that causes the distress. The Cordial causes the food to be digested before there is time for it to ferment and sour on the stomach. When the food is so digested it gives strength and vigor to the feeble body, makes one feel bright and cheerful, and makes one gain in flesh.

The Digestive Cordial is so prompt in its action that the very first dose will have a perceptibly favorable result. It gives immediate relief.

Every druggist has been sent a supply of our handsome Donkey Puzzle Books, and a copy may be had for the asking. It tells all about the Cordial as well as Laxo', the new castor oil.

Try a twenty-five cent bottle of Digestive Cordial and see what it will do for you.

CHAPTER IV.

SOME RATHER QUEER ROAD AGENTS.

"You had better come back to the car, Miss Cullen," remarked Lord Ralles after a pause.

But she declined to do so, saying she wanted to know what I was going to telegraph. And he left us, for which I wasn't sorry. I told her of the good news I had to send, and she wanted to know if now we would try to catch the road agents. I set her mind at rest on that score.

"I think they'll give us very little trouble to bag," I added, "for they are so green that it's almost pitiful."

"In not cutting the wires?" she asked.

"In everything," I replied. "But the worst botch is their waiting till we had just passed the Arizona line. If they had held us up an hour earlier, it would only have been state's prison."

"And what will it be now?"

"Hanging."

"What?" cried Miss Cullen.

"In New Mexico train robbing is not capital, but in Arizona it is," I told her.

"And if you catch them they'll be hung?" she asked.

"Yes."

"That seems very hard."

The first signs of dawn were beginning to show by this time, and as the sky brightened I told Miss Cullen that I was going to look for the trail of the fugitives. She said she would walk with me, if not in the way, and my assurance was very positive on that point. And here I want to remark that it's saying a good deal if a girl can be up all night in such excitement and still look fresh and pretty, and that she did.

I ordered the crew to look about, and then began a big circle around the train. Finding nothing, I swung a bigger one. That being equally unavailing, I did a larger third. Not a trace of foot or hoof within a half mile of the cars! I had heard of blankets laid down to conceal a trail of swathed feet, even of leathern horse boots with cattle hoofs on the bottom, but none of these could have been used for such a distance, let alone the entire absence of any signs of a place where the horses had been hobbled. Returning to the train, the report of the men was the same.

"We've ghost road agents to deal with, Miss Cullen," I laughed. "They come from nowhere, bullets touch them not, their lead hurts nobody, they take nothing, and they disappear without touching the ground."

"How curious it is!" she exclaimed. "One would almost suppose it a dream."

"Hold on," I said. "We do have something tangible, for if they disappeared they left their shells behind them." And I pointed to some cartridge shells that lay on the ground beside the mail car. "My theory of aerial bullets won't do."

"The shells are as hollow as I feel," laughed Miss Cullen.

"Your suggestion reminds me that I am desperately hungry," I said. "Suppose we go back and end the famine."

Most of the passengers had long since returned to their seats or berths, and Mr. Cullen's party had apparently done the same, for 218 showed no signs of life. One of my darkies was awake, and he broiled a steak and made us some coffee in no time, and just as they were ready Albert Cullen appeared. So we made a very jolly little breakfast. He told me at length the part he and the Britishers had borne and only made me marvel the more that any one of them was alive, for apparently they had jumped off the car without the slightest precaution and had stood grouped together even after they had called attention to themselves by Lord Ralles' shots. Cullen had to confess that he heard the whistle of the four bullets unpleasantly close.

"You have a right to be proud, Mr. Cullen," I said. "You fellows did a tremendously plucky thing, and, thanks to you, we didn't lose anything."

"But you went to help, too, Mr. Gordon," said Miss Cullen.

That made me color up, and after a moment's hesitation I said:

"I'm not going to sail under false colors, Miss Cullen. When I went forward, I didn't think I could do anything. I supposed whoever had pitched into the robbers was dead, and I expected to be the same inside of ten minutes."

"Then why did you risk your life," she asked, "if you thought it was useless?"

I laughed, and, though ashamed to tell it, said, "I didn't want you to think that the Britishers had more pluck than I had."

She took my confession better than I hoped she would, laughing with me, and then said, "Well, that was courageous, after all."

"Yes," I said. "I was frightened into bravery."

"Perhaps if they had known the danger as well as you, they would have been less courageous," she continued. And I could have blessed her for the speech.

While we were still eating, the mail clerk came to my car and reported that the most careful search had failed to discover the three registered letters, and they had evidently been taken. This made me feel sober, slight as the probable loss was. He told me that his list showed they were all addressed to Ash Forks, A. T., making it improbable that their contents could be of any real value. If possible, I was more puzzled than ever.

At 6:10 the runner whistled to show he had steam up. I told one of the brakemen to stay behind and then went into 218. Mr. Cullen was still dressing, but I expressed my regrets through the door that I could not go with his party to the Grand canyon; told him that all the stage arrangements had been completed and promised to join him there in case my luck was good. Then I saw Frederic for a moment to see how he was (for I had nearly forgotten him in the excitement), to find that he was gaining all the time and preparing even to get up. When I returned to the saloon, the rest of the party were there, and I said goodby to the captain and Albert. Then I turned to Lord Ralles, and, holding out my hand, said:

"Lord Ralles, I joked a little the other morning about the way you thought road agents ought to be treated. You have turned the joke very neatly and pluckily, and I want to apologize for myself and thank you for the railroad."

"Neither is necessary," he said airily, pretending not to see my hand.

I never claimed to have a good temper, and it was all I could do to hold myself in. I turned to Miss Cullen to wish her a pleasant trip, and the thought that this might be our last meeting made me forget even Lord Ralles.

"I hope it isn't goodby, but only au revoir," she said. "Whether or no, you must let us see you some time in Chicago, so that I may show you how grateful I am for all the pleasure you have added to our trip." Then, as I stepped down off my platform, she leaned over the rail of 218 and said in a low voice, "I thought you were just as brave as the rest, Mr. Gordon, and now I think you are braver."

I turned impulsively and said, "You would think so, Miss Cullen, if you knew the sacrifice I am making." Then, without looking at her, I gave the signal, the bell rang, and No. 3 pulled off. The last thing I saw was a handkerchief waving off the platform of 218.

When the train dropped out of sight over a grade, I swallowed the lump in my throat and went to the telegraph instrument. I wired Coolidge to give the alarm to Fort Wingate, Fort Apache, Fort Thomas, Fort Grant, Fort Bayard and Fort Whipple, though I thought the precaution a mere waste of energy. Then I sent the brakeman up to connect the cut wire.

"Two of the bullets struck up here, Mr. Gordon," the man called from the top of the pole.

"Surely not!" I exclaimed.

"Yes, sir," he responded. "The bullet holes are brand new."

I took in the lay of the land, the embers of the fire showing me how the train had lain. "I don't wonder nobody was hit," I exclaimed, "if that's a sample of their shooting. Some one was a worse rattled man than I ever expect to be. Dig the bullets out, Douglas, so that we can have a look at them."

He brought them down in a minute. They proved to be winchesters, as I had expected, for they were on the side from which the robbers must have fired.

"That chap must have been full of Arizona tanglefoot to have fired as wild as he did," I ejaculated and walked over to where the mail car had stood to see just how bad the shooting was. When I got there and faced about, it was really impossible to believe any man could have done so badly, for raising my own winchester to the pole put it 20 degrees out of range and nearly 40 degrees in the air. Yet there were the cartridge shells on the ground to show that I was in the place from which the shots had been fired.

While I was still cogitating over this the special train I had ordered out from Flagstaff came in sight and in a few moments was stopped where I was. It consisted of a string of three flats and a box car and brought the sheriff, a dozen cowboys whom he had sworn in as deputies and their horses. I was hopeful that with these fellows' greater skill in such matters they could find what I had not, but after a thorough examination of the ground within a mile of the robbery they were as much at fault as I had been.

"Them cusses must have a dugout nigh abouts, for they couldn't 'a' got away without wings," the sheriff surmised.

I didn't put much stock in that idea and told the sheriff so.

"Waal, round up a better one," was his retort.

Not being able to do that, I told him of the bullets in the telegraph pole and took him over to where the mail car had stood.

"Jerusalem crickets!" was his comment as he measured the aim. "If that's where they put two of their pills, they must have pumped the other four inter the moon."

"What other four?" I asked.

"Shots!" he replied sententiously.

"The road agents only fired four times," I told him.

"Them and your pards must have been pretty nigh together for a minute, then," he said, pointing to the ground.

I glanced down, and, sure enough, there were six empty cartridge shells. I stood looking blankly at them, hardly able to believe what I saw, for Albert Cullen had said distinctly that the train robbers had fired only four times, and that the last three winchester shots I had heard had been fired by himself. Then, without speaking, I walked slowly back, searching along the edge of the roadbed for more shells; but, though I went beyond the point where the last car had stood, not one did I find. Any man who has fired a winchester knows that it drops its empty shell in loading, and I could therefore draw only one conclusion—namely, that all seven discharges of the winchesters had occurred up by the mail car. I had heard of men supposing they had fired their guns through hearing another go off, but with a repeating rifle one has to fire before one can reload. The fact was evident that Albert Cullen either had fired his winchester up by the mail car or else had not fired it at all. In either case he had lied, and Lord Ralles and Captain Ackland had backed him up in it.

Mr. Woodard could not take the buildings in claims said to be due him. Mrs. Rader is a sister-in-law of Folsom.

Mr. Burt swore that he had heard Folsom make a statement to the same effect, while they were in Chicago.

This testimony, it is said, made a deep impression on the jury. While debating on the question, it is said, the jury went over all the testimony, point by point, with great care and thoroughness. None of them, it is said, had any sleep during the night.

The Prisoner's Story.

On the morning of November 9, Folsom said, he made a trip to Beloit to sell the same quantity of baled straw that was destroyed during the fire, which occurred that evening. He claims that he closed the deal that day with E. J. Adams of Beloit.

On the afternoon of the same day he came to this city and after transacting business with District Attorney Jackson left for home on the 7:20 train. On arriving at Clinton he went directly to Burt's livery barn. After remaining a short time he went to Mont Palmeter's barber shop and got shaved. When he left the shop it was 8:45 o'clock. From there he entered the Cheesman hotel where he remained until bout 10 o'clock when h left for home. At 10:15 o'clock the alarm of fire was sounded and when Edwin Hamner—Burt's hired man—went to Burt's home to notify him that his barn was on fire he found Folsom at home.

The jury evidently decided that Folsom's explanation did not cover closely enough his movements between the time he left the hotel and the discovery of the fire.

Fire a Mysterious One.

The fire occurred on the night of November 9, and was of mysterious origin. Two buildings were destroyed and the loss was heavy.

The blaze was discovered in Giles Burt's big barn oetween 10 and 11 o'clock. In the barn was eighty tons of baled straw and fifteen tons of baled hay. The building and contents were totally destroyed. Dr. West lost nearly all his household effects, and had no insurance. The residence was owned by Mr. Burt.

After the fire some litigation was begun.

A strong case was made out against Folsom and his conviction was expected by those familiar with the case. Attorney J. J. Cunningham put up the strongest defense possible, but could not break the force of the state's evidence, which was skillfully handled by District Attorney Jackson.

Richard Barry pleaded guilty before Judge Bennett yesterday to the charge of assaulting Thomas Nash, and was sent to jail for fifteen days. He has been in jail nearly two months awaiting trial.

ALDERMAN Taylor was here from Beloit.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH.

A Pleasant, Simple, But Safe and Effectual Cure for It.

Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing; headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harlanson the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Diastase, Aseptic Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.

Mr. N. J. Booher, of 2710 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., writes: "Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the poisonous discharge therefrom passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, thus producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have found flesh, appetite and sound rest from their use.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals.

Send for little book, mailed free, on stomach troubles, by addressing Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich. The tablets can be found at all drug stores.
